

These Final Terms amend and replace the Final Terms dated 16 April 2020 in respect of the issue of Notes described

MIFID II product governance / Retail investors, professional investors and ECPs – Solely for the purposes of the manufacturer's product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Notes has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Notes is eligible counterparties, professional clients and retail clients, each as defined in MiFID II; and(ii) all channels for distribution to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate; and (iii) the following channels for distribution of the Notes to retail clients are appropriate - investment advice, and portfolio management, and non-advised sales and pure execution services, subject to the distributor's suitability and appropriateness obligations under MiFID II. The product is incompatible for any client outside the positive target market identified above. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a distributor) should take into consideration the manufacturer's target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturer's target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels, subject to the distributor's suitability and appropriateness obligations under MiFID II, as applicable.

Most material risk factors pertaining to the Guarantor

The key risks with regard to Natixis' structure and operations are set out below:

1. Natixis is exposed to the credit risk of its counterparties in its activities. Due to the inability of one or more of its counterparties to comply with its contractual obligations and in a context of increasing defaults by its counterparties, Natixis could suffer financial losses of a greater or lesser magnitude depending on the concentration of its exposure to those defaulting counterparties;
2. Financial markets' fluctuations and high volatility may expose Natixis to the risk of losses in relation to its trading and investment operations;
3. If Natixis fails to comply with applicable laws and regulations, Natixis could be exposed to heavy fines and other administrative and criminal sanctions likely to have a material adverse impact on its financial position, business and reputation;
4. Natixis is exposed to risks related to the environment in which it operates, and notably its macroeconomic environment, the financial markets' conditions and the changes in the legislative and regulatory framework applicable to the structure of Natixis and its activities, which could adversely affect its financial position; and
5. In the context of its insurance activities, Natixis is exposed mainly to asset impairment risk (fall in the equity or real estate market, widening spreads, interest rate hikes) as well as the risk of lower interest rates which would generate insufficient income to meet its guaranteed principal and returns.

What are the key risks that are specific to the securities?

There are also risks associated with the Notes, including a range of market risks, including:

General risks

(Risk of volatility of the Notes) Noteholders could face a risk of volatility, which refers to the risk of changes in the value of a Note, as well as any difference between the valuation level and the sale price of the Notes on the secondary market. Events in France, Europe or elsewhere could cause volatility in the secondary market of the Notes, and the resulting volatility could have a negative impact on the trading or sale price of the Notes.

(Risk relating to the NSA Guarantee (which include reference to resolution or insolvency risk of the Guarantor)) Noteholders may suffer losses should Natixis (the Guarantor) undergo resolution proceedings pursuant to European regulation and French transposition rules establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms. In case of resolution proceedings, the noteholders could face non-redemption or redemption at an amount lower than the amount expected.

(Risk of early redemption in the event of illegality or changes in taxation) In the event of redemption of the Notes before maturity in the event of illegality or changes in rules on withholding taxes, the noteholders will receive an amount equal to their fair market value in the event of redemption prior to maturity. The fair market value payable in the event of early redemption may be lower than the amount that they initially anticipated.

(Risk of loss of capital for Notes whose redemption amount is determined by reference to a calculation formula and/or linked to an underlying asset) The amounts of principal payable by the Issuer are indexed on or linked to the performance of one underlying asset (an Underlying). Such amounts may be determined by the application of a calculation formula and one or more observations or the occurrence of certain events in relation to the Underlying(s). If there is an adverse change in the performance of the Underlying(s), exacerbated, if relevant, by the terms of the above-mentioned formula or indexation provisions, investors may suffer a significantly decreased redemption amount on the Notes or even a total loss of its investment.

(Currency fluctuations and exchange controls risk) Currency fluctuations and exchange controls can have a substantial impact on the value of the Notes. Consequently, it is possible that, following a disruption in the source of the price or a substantial fluctuation in exchange rates, there could be a decrease in the return on the Notes or the redemption amount after conversion into the investor's currency.

(Risk of low or no returns) If there is an adverse change in the price, value or level of the Underlying(s), exacerbated, if relevant, by the terms of the above-mentioned formula or indexation provisions, investors may suffer a significantly decreased rate of return on the Notes or even no return whatsoever.

(Risks associated with Notes whose interest amounts or redemption amounts are linked to or make reference to an Underlying Index) Determination of the interest amounts, early redemption amounts or final redemption amounts, as the case may be, payable on the Notes requires observation of the Underlying's value(s). Certain events affecting an administrator of a benchmark or a benchmark, such as, impossibility for the administrator to provide the relevant benchmark, modification of the benchmark formula, cancellation of the benchmark or failure to calculate and announce the benchmark, may make it impossible or illegal to use such benchmark. In addition, benchmarks are governed by regulatory guidelines and reform proposals at the national and international level. Ongoing reforms could have effects on the continuation of some benchmarks, which, may not be maintained. Such reforms could impact the functioning of benchmarks and impact their rules of determination and calculation.

In these cases, the Calculation Agent may, at its discretion, either adjust certain terms of the Notes, or replace the Underlying or require the Issuer to redeem the Notes at the early redemption amount equal to the fair market value as determined by and at the sole discretion of the Calculation Agent. The adjustment of the terms of the Notes may have a material impact on the amount(s) due in respect of the Note and on the value of the Notes. Moreover, such fair market value may be less than the redemption amount initially set out in the terms of the Notes and consequently investors may lose all or some of their investment.

(Risk relating to change in law or the inability to hold hedging positions) The Issuer enters into hedging agreements to cover the risks related to such Notes and in particular changes in the value of the relevant Underlying(s). In the event of a change in law or a hedging disruption, it may become unlawful or impracticable for the Issuer to hold, acquire, exercise or dispose of such hedging agreements. In these cases, the Calculation Agent may, at the request of the Issuer, at its discretion, either adjust the terms of the Notes, or redeem the Notes at the early redemption amount equal to the fair market value as determined by and at the sole discretion of the Calculation Agent. The adjustment of the terms of the Notes may have a material impact on the amounts due in respect of the Note and on the value of the Notes. Moreover, such fair market value may be less than the redemption amount initially set out in the terms of the Notes and consequently investors may lose all or some of their investment.

(Risks relating to inability to observe the price, value or level of the Underlying(s) in the event of market disruption) Determination of the interest amounts, early redemption amounts or final redemption amounts, as the case may be, payable on the Notes requires observation of the value of the Underlying(s) in the relevant market(s). Market disruption events related to these markets may occur and prevent the Calculation Agent from making such determinations. In such cases, the Calculation Agent shall defer the observation of the value of the Underlying(s). If the market disruption event continues, the Calculation Agent shall determine in good faith the value of the affected Underlying(s) which could have a material impact on the interest amounts, redemption amounts or final redemption amounts and on the value of the Notes.

The dealer and its affiliates may also have engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with, and may perform other services for, the Issuer and the Guarantor and their respective affiliates in the ordinary course of business.

Various entities within the BPCE Group (including the Issuer and Guarantor) and affiliates undertake different roles in connection with the Notes, including Issuer of the Notes and may also engage in trading activities (including hedging activities) relating to the Underlying and other instruments or derivative products based on or relating to the Underlying which may give rise to potential conflicts of interest.

Natixis, which acts as arranger, permanent dealer and Calculation Agent is an affiliate of the Issuer and the Guarantor and potential conflicts of interest may exist between it and holders of the Notes, including with respect to certain determinations and judgments that the Calculation Agent must make. The economic interests of the Issuer and of Natixis as arranger and permanent dealer are potentially adverse to a holder's interests as an investor in the Notes. Other than as mentioned above, so far as the Issuer is aware, no person involved in the issue of the Notes has an interest material to the offer, including conflicting interests.
